ThenWhat4U, LLC. offer the communities purpose planned communication solutions.

Tampa, FL - CEO of ThenWhat4U, LLC. initiatives Michael E. Miller announces the January 2009 national launch of the ThenWhat4U, LLC. communication for middle school, high school, college grads for all cultures, races, and sexes on various networking sites with unique teaching products that will create a legacy in the life of the mentored client. Our products add educational substance for day to day application long after our training experience is over.

Example, one of our pathfinder sessions teaches you how to deposit things into others life that last beyond today. Our high priority in all that ThenWhat4U, LLC. do is to operate with a spirit of excellence which is our habit in all that we do. How that is accomplished is we do not create any venues that with nothing less than the WOW eye and verbal expression from the on viewing person. Hence we provide service with excellence and leave you with a product that complement /speaks the same. Michael has an innate ability to relate, inspire, advise, and help youth locate their specific fulfilling life path. With over fifteen years experience as an entrepreneur and twenty years as a air force veteran who has traveled and interacted with different cultures he's culturally intuitive to people local and national. Michael also business advise, public speaker, and is an accomplished solo singer. Visit our site at www.thenwhat4ucommunication.com
